

Make Your Voice Heard!

A contribution to the Pennsylvania Psychiatric Physicians' Political Action Committee (PPP-PAC) puts you and the Pennsylvania Psychiatric Society (PaPS) in front of the commonwealth's key leaders and policymakers.

Legislative, regulatory, and executive decisions made in Harrisburg affect your profession and your daily practices. Here's how PaPS represents you and the profession of psychiatry at the state capitol:

- We monitor adherence to federal parity requirements for public and private insurers
- We advocate scope of practice for non-physician providers and support for team-based care
- We collaborate with stakeholders on improving the Maintenance of Certification (MOC) program
- We advocate for consumer confidentiality and medical records issues
- We collaborate with stakeholders on improving policies, procedures, and legislation to reduce stigma
- We advocate for early intervention and training on suicide prevention and mental illness, and
- We provide clinical expertise in order to oppose legislation that negatively impacts consumers struggling with substance use, co-occurring disorders, and mental health issues.

PPP-PAC funds are used to enhance PaPS' relationships with key legislators who support our causes and to assist in initiating dialogue with key officials in need of additional education and clinical expertise. PaPS' political contributions, through PPP-PAC donations, are some of the most valuable tools we have for opening doors or enhancing current affiliations.

By law, PaPS may not use membership dues to make political contributions. We may only use PPP-PAC funds for this purpose. Please help the Society deliver your message by sending a personal donation today. Make an investment in your profession and in your future.
